Suitcase.com has recently published its Consumer Luggage Report 2010.

Among its key findings were:

- 57.4% are now packing lighter and using smaller travel bags, and 56.5% check fewer bags due to increasing airline fees and restrictions.
- 72.3% most commonly use carry-on bags during air travel.
- 79.1% consider luggage size and dimensions the greatest influence on their decision to purchase, with luggage weight (69.3%) the second-most deciding factor.
- 44.2% prefer lightweight materials the most when purchasing luggage.
- 88.9% consider wheels the most important luggage feature, with retractable handles (71.4%) the second-most important feature.

Delsey® has always been the brand synonymous with innovation in the world of luggage since 1946

Delsey® luggage is subject to rigorous tests of quality for homologation

- Delsey® sliding closures are opened and closed up to 5,000 times, the equivalent of 5 years normal everyday use.
- Delsey® components and raw materials are subjected to extreme corrosive and weather conditions to test resistance to rust. Fabrics have to pass tear resistance tests.
