THE BAEKGAARD STORY

In 1951, a young Danish immigrant named Peer Baekgaard came to New York City with $127, a few hand-carved toy boats, and one big dream. With only a limited grasp of the English language—and a tenacity he learned fighting in the Danish underground during World War II—he managed to sell his boats to FAO Schwarz, and a unique giftware business was born. Peer's enthusiasm and determination led to the creation of the Baekgaard product line, still known today for its quality men's accessories.

Peer's legacy continues today with a new line of contemporary designs for businessmen and students alike. Barbara Bradley Baekgaard, Peer's wife, will ensure that the Baekgaard name continues to stand for stylish, high-quality products.

Peer liked to say he was "Danish by birth, American by choice." This combination of ingenuity and can-do spirit lives on in every piece we create. We invite you to explore our entire line for yourself. Skol!
